CHICAGO, Illinois (June 7, 2019) – Continuing its growth and expanding on its leadership position in experiential travel, Garmany Golf—one of the world’s leading premium golf travel and hospitality companies—added two new members to its management team: Jonathan Block, who will serve as Chief Operating Officer, and Steve Sellery, who will serve as Vice President of Business Development.

Block is President of Landmark Counsel, Inc., an advisory firm counselling owners, entrepreneurs, and families on business, management, HR and legal strategies. For the last 25 years, he has served as a key advisor to the entire C-suite and board of directors at the most critical stages of his client-companies’ development. Landmark Counsel often assumes critical operational growth functions to speed the development of their businesses, such as this key role for Garmany.

“I’m pleased to join Garmany Golf at this exciting stage of growth for the company,” says Block. “We look to change the landscape of the golf travel industry.”

More recently, through his consulting company Iconic Sports & Entertainment, he has served in a variety of promotion and brand-experience roles in golf as well as in the television industry.
